

Roads

anywhere you want to go there's a road to take you there from niagra falls to the florida keys there's a road to take you there from the grand canyon to redwood forests from sea to shining sea and fields of grain in between there's a road to take you there

connecting city and stream mountain and town mall and forest
there's a road to take you there

but I want to go somewhere else away from endless expanses of road without lines of yellow and white there's no road to take me there
